

15TH AND O SITE OK'D

Council Plans New City Hall

... CAN'T AGREE WITH COUNTY

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The City Council voted 5-2 to "proceed to plan to build a City Hall at 15th and O" in ending a 12-hour marathon session Monday night.

This vote, one of two, followed a heated council discussion and lengthy public hearing at which both 15th and O and 10th and J proponents appeared on the city-county building location issue.

The prevailing council members made it clear they preferred the 15th and O location for a city-county building, but were abandoning hopes of ever reaching an agreement with the Lancaster County Commissioners.

A letter, signed by the three commissioners, was read to the council by a county representative, making it clear the County Board favored a city-county building only at 10th and J, present site of the County Courthouse.

Council vote on the resolution for a City Hall at 15th and O was: For — D. L. Tyrrell, Helen Boosalis, John Comstock (who made the motion), Lloyd Hinkley and John Mason. Against — Ed Becker and Ervin Peterson.

Negotiations

Earlier a motion, which was killed by the prevailing substitute motion, proposed negotiations with the county for a city-county building at 15th and O.

This motion was defeated 4-3. The vote was: Against — Peterson, Becker, Tyrrell and Hinkley. For — Boosalis, Comstock and Mason.

Several council members said they voted against this motion because there was no hope of the County Commissioners ever agreeing to city-county building negotiations based on a 15th and O location.

In the final showdown vote, only Becker and Peterson indicated they would favor a 10th and J location in preference to abandoning a joint building.

In observing that Lincoln has some 80% of the people in the county, Councilman Comstock termed the county's insistence upon 10th and J as "the tail trying to wag the dog."

Councilman Hinkley said he favored the 15th and O site, but had proposed further negotiations with the county at 10th and J only because "I don't think the city has a chance of getting a city-county building at 15th and O."

"Must Have Own Way" Councilman Comstock suggested the county commissioners have cooperated on the city-county building issue only when they get their own way.

Attorney William Aitken, representing the Downtown Development of Lincoln Inc., said the 15th and O location was recommended by an independent study of Barton Aschmann & Associates, downtown planners.

He also pointed out at least two cities abandoned city-county buildings after unsuccessful experiences.

Also appearing for the 15th and O location were Burnham Yates, DDL president; E.J. Faulkner, City-County Planning Commission chairman; Clarence Swanson and Thomas C. Woods Jr.

Swanson noted that "O Street is preparing to spend $750,000 to build a downtown mall" in urging the 15th location for a city-county building.

Faulkner suggested a city building at 15th and O was preferable to a city-county building at 10th and J if those were the only choices for the city.

Attorney Warren Urbom, representing J St. interests, said the present Courthouse site is more accessible and land acquisition costs would be less than at 15th and O.

Presents Sketch

Urbom also presented an architect's sketch of a city-county building, featuring twin towers, for a two-block site straddling J at 10th.

Urbom represented Sky Park Manor, Arthur J. Weaver, Pat Minier, Standard Reliance Insurance Co., Farmers Mutual Insurance Co., Inland Insurance Co., George C. Albin, Universal Surety Co. and Howard Lynch.

Passengers Watch Bull, Car Crashes

Grand Island (AP) — A car which had slowed to a near stop so that the passengers could view Carl Swanson and his bull, Randy, was involved in a collision Monday 6½ miles north of Grand Island on U.S. 281.

The car, driven by Pamela Trentman, 17, of St. Libory, was in collision with one driven by Robert Pearsons 19, of Grand Island. State Highway Patrol troopers said the Trentman car was propelled off of the highway into a ditch.

Miss Trentman and her mother, Mrs. Unis Trentman, were taken to a Grand Island hospital.

Swanson, who is riding Randy from International Falls, Minn., to Galveston, Texas, to point out beef grower's problems, said the accident was the first serious mishap he had seen since he started the ride. The Safety Patrol warned Swanson to keep the bull farther from the traveled portion of the highway.

Neither Randy nor Swanson was injured.

Swanson had been barred from U.S. 81 near Madison late last month as a safety precaution.

State 'Brick, Mortar' Aid Plan OK'd

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Higher Education Commission Monday approved the state plan for participation in the federal Higher Education Facilities Act of 1963 by public and private colleges and universities in Nebraska.

The federal program, commonly referred to as the "brick and mortar" act, will provide federal grants to institutions of higher learning to aid in the construction of classroom and library facilities.

The state plan, approved by the seven-member Nebraska Commission, now will be submitted to the U.S. Commissioner of Education for federal approval.

Eligible four-year colleges and universities would receive about one-third of a project's cost in federal funds, and two-year colleges would receive about 40% federal funds.

Detailed Criteria The state plan sets up detailed criteria for the Commission to use in determining priorities of the various institutions which are divided into two main categories: public community colleges and public technical institutes, and all other institutions of higher learning.

U.S. Calls On Viets To Get On With Job

Washington (AP)—The United States has appealed to the leaders of South Viet Nam to declare a moratorium on their differences and get on with the main job of "saving the country," Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Monday.

Rusk told a news conference at the State Department that he was "gratified" that the Sunday uprising by rebellious generals in South Viet Nam had not led to armed conflict with forces loyal to the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh.

Danger

The secretary expressed hope that all the South Vietnamese leaders would recognize the danger involved in incidents like that which occurred Sunday and that they would be spurred to new efforts for unity and political stability.

He said "the important point we've made" in talking with Vietnamese military and political leaders is that while the United States understands their reasons for differences, these reasons are secondary to the "overriding necessity to save the country."

In responding to questions, Rusk pointed out that he had made a statement earlier in the day in a speech at Detroit defining U.S. policy toward South Viet Nam. The essence of this policy, he said, is "helping the Republic of Viet Nam with our experience and our resources to put down the Communists' campaign of terror and subversion and to forge the machinery of stable government in their own country."

He also declared that the United States does not intend "to negotiate any bogus neutralization."

Rusk said probably only 8 to 10 battalions participated in the uprising and it is "gratifying" that the armed forces generally were not prepared to follow the rebels.

Seated at the conference table with Khanh were the officers who saved his job. These included the air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, who held Saigon airport and sent warplanes menacingly over the rebel ranks, and Brig. Gen. Cao Van Vien, commander of paratroopers.

2 Nebraska MDs Earn 'Hopie' Title

By DEAN TERRILL

Southeast Nebraska Bureau "Hopies?"

Seemingly not a very distinguished title for a doctor, yet one that only two Nebraskans can claim.

Drs. C. M. Foote of Hastings and H. C. Stewart of Pawnee City earned their right to the nickname this summer as volunteers on the famed S. S. Hope. Impoverished and medically needy Ecuador was the mission this time — one of several since the globe-jumping hospital ship's maiden voyage in 1960.

As was true in Indonesia and South Viet Nam and Peru and every port of call, thousands benefitted each visit from the 25 to 30 rotating MDs who gave a month or two to "Project Hope." It will be just as true next month when the mercy ship sails with new men to the African Republic of Guinea.

To Help Themselves

"More than giving medical treatment, the main objective is to teach these countries to help themselves," said Dr. Foote, an ophthalmologist member of Ecuador's special-sprinkled "crew." "We wouldn't get far ourselves with the little time we can give, for in these countries you could treat people night and day for years and still get practically no place."

Far more profitably, the Nebraskans and other medics each had a native counterpart studying alongside as they saw some 250 patients a week. The city of Guayaquil offered "much too much" evidence of malnutrition and tuberculosis and parasitic infection.

"Basic sanitation is the biggest problem, and one of the saddest sights is the undernourished children," observed Dr. Stewart, a general practitioner. "It is far too common for youngsters of 18 months to weigh but 12 or 13 pounds."

Coordinating with the Peace Corps, the ship is sponsored by the People-to-People Health Foundation, Inc. A book about the continuing project is being published this month under the authorship of founder Dr. William B. Walsh of Washington, D.C.

Million Shots

A hint of the program's scope is that more than $5 million in drug and medical supplies have been contributed to the cause by some 900 U.S. firms. More than a million immunizations were administered in Ecuador alone.

Dr. Foote became the first Cornhusker "Hopie" when he threw in with the expedition two years ago to Peru. His two-month Ecuador tour unfortunately was timed so that he "barely had time for a handshake" as he left and Dr. Stewart came aboard last June.

Both physicians have practiced several years in Nebraska. The Pawnee Citian is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University and the University of Nebraska College of Medicine, while Dr. Foote took his degrees at Stanford, Northwestern and Harvard.

Enough Hope?

Is there truly enough hope in the S. S. Hope to make the missions worthwhile?

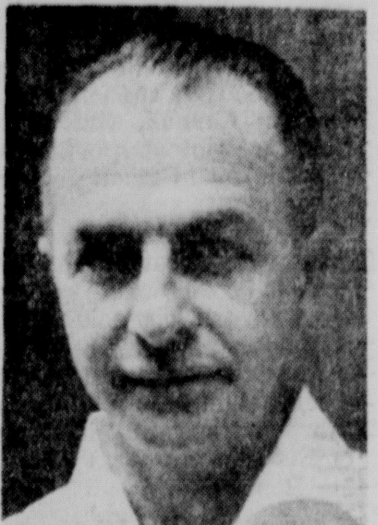

Maybe the best answer is in Dr. Foote's upcoming voyage No. 3. Black with his family scarcely three months, he has signed on to sail to Africa on September 30.

Mindszenty Could Be Free Soon

Vatican City (UPI) — Ecclesiastical Council sources Monday said an agreement is expected shortly between the Vatican and Communist Hungary that could lead to the end of Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty's nearly eight years of asylum in the U.S. legation in Budapest.

The cardinal took refuge in the American legation after Soviet armed forces crushed the Hungarian freedom revolt in 1956.

The sources said Msgr. Agostino Casaroli of the Vatican Secretariat of State is in Budapest to draft an accord for more religious freedom for Catholics in Hungary.

Picking Bishops

Only one point remained not definitely settled, according to the sources. It concerned naming of bishops agreeable to the Holy See and the Budapest regime to fill episcopal vacancies. Full agreement was expected shortly.

It was known that the thorny question of the 72-year-old primate of Hungary was being considered separately from the general accord. However, an agreement was expected to lead eventually to his departure to Rome.

The main points in the accord besides the naming of the new bishops concerned discrimination against religious institutions, general permission for priests to hold religious services and preach without special permits from the Communist regime, and an end to state interference and censorship of the religious press.

Sentenced To Life Cardinal Mindszenty was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1949 by a Communist court for alleged treasons, espionage and black market currency transactions. He was freed by Hungarian freedom fighters but fled to the U.S. legation when Soviet tanks and troops smashed the anti-Communist revolt.

The late Pope John XXIII initiated negotiations with the Communist government in an effort to reach some compromise which would allow the cardinal freedom and alleviate the situation of Catholics in Hungary. Pope Paul VI continued the efforts.

Boycott May Lead To School Aid Cut

New York (AP) — A boycott against busing of children to achieve racial integration in New York public schools Monday threatened the city with a $2.2 million loss in state aid.

The demonstration cut opening day attendance by 275,000.

More than a million youngsters were summoned back to classes, but 275,638 failed to appear. Absenteeism, mainly white, hit a figure of 27% — in contrast to a normal 10% on opening day.

Based On Attendance

State aid to city schools is based on daily attendance figures over a prescribed period of time.

School Supt. Calvin Gross said a technicality would spare the city any penalty for the opening day boycott. But he added that if it is repeated Tuesday, as planned, the loss in state aid could result.

Gross told parents: "You've made your point. Let's let the students back to school tomorrow. Let's let them get an education."

Donovan Wonders

President James B. Donovan of the Board of Education, noting it was the third public school boycott this year, declared:

"Has any boycott advanced the cause of those who organized it: Has any boycott won the sympathy and support of the community at large?

"The school boycott must be outlawed as a weapon in controversies over educational matters, regardless of its use by a minority or a majority."

White parents' groups which sponsored the planned two-day boycott had predicted 250,000 pupils would take part. Last winter, racial integrationists kept almost half the 1,056,000 students away in one boycott, and 267,000 away in a second.

Protest

Monday's boycott was called to protest a Board of Education pilot plan for speeding racial integration in public schools by busing some children away from their regular neighborhood schools.

Parochial schools with 375,000 attendance were not involved.

Absenteeism in the handful of paired schools whose pupils were bused ranged from 18 to 65%. By contrast, Harlem schools, which are predominantly Negro, reported normal attendance. And at non-affected P.S. 112 in Brooklyn, virtually all white, hardly a pupil showed up, and classrooms stood empty.

Udall Will Join In Norris Ceremonies

... TAKE AERIAL TOUR

U.S. Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall will go to McCook Saturday with Gov. Frank Morrison to participate in the ceremonies attendant to the placement of an historical marker at the home of the late Sen. George W. Norris.

In announcing Udall's visit to McCook, the governor said that following the Norris ceremonies, the Interior secretary will accompany him and State Water Resources Director Dan S. Jones Jr. in an aerial tour of Bureau of Reclamation projects in the Republican Valley.

Morrison said the schedule calls for the trio's departure from Lincoln at 8 a.m. Saturday, arrival at McCook at 9:15 a.m. when they will have coffee with Mrs. Norris, widow of the senator, prior to the 10 a.m. dedication ceremonies.

Aerial Tour

During the aerial tour scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., the interior chief will view the Frenchman River Dam at Enders, the Republican River Dam at Trenton, the Red Willow Creek Dam north of McCook, the Medicine Creek Dam at Cambridge, and irrigation works attendant thereto.

Morrison described the progress in watershed development in the Republican River Valley as being a "model for the nation."

Following the aerial tour, Morrison said Secretary Udall will be his guest at the Nebraska-South Dakota football game. He added he hoped they will be able to see at least the last half of the game.

Pleased

In other comments at his press conference, Morrison expressed pleasure with the Midwest Governors' Conference which took place in Minneapolis last week.

He termed the meeting "highly successful," and said that all of the senators, congressmen and governors of the 12 Midwestern states have approved the permanent form of organization for the Midwest Bloc designed to get more federal research projects for this region.

Seoul, South Korea (UPI)—Authorities said Monday 190 persons were killed in Sunday's rainstorm — the worst to hit South Korea in 20 years.

Revised casualty figures announced by the government flood countermeasure committee said 230 persons were missing, 273 injured and 31,658 homeless. Property damage was placed at $750,000. Many homes were buried by landslides.

The government began a program of assistance to stricken areas, delivering food and bedding to victims.

Pope Aims To Remove Christian Unity Blocks

... OPENS COUNCIL WITH CONCELEBRATION

Vatican City (AP) — Pope Paul VI assured the non-Catholic Christian world Monday that it is his purpose to clear away every obstacle blocking Christian unity.

He called upon his own bishops to spell out for him their share in the church's supreme authority, a move that could ease the task of unity.

Opening the third and perhaps decisive session of the Vatican Council, the pontiff made a point of speaking directly to non-Catholic observers present.

"We wish to assure you once more of our purpose and hope to be able one day to remove every obstacle, every misunderstanding, every hesitancy that still prevents us from feeling fully 'of one heart and one soul' in Christ, in His church (Acts 4:32)," the Pope said.

"All We Can" "For our part, we shall do all that the possibilities allow to this end."

The Pope's allocution set the tone for the meeting of 2,500 Catholic prelates from around the world.

Christian unity and the sharing of the church government with the bishops appeared interlocking. Non-Catholic Christians balk at the supreme authority placed in the Pope.

The upshot of the deliberations of the prelates may be some kind of group to advise the Pope.

Speaking to his bishops, the Pope said:

"The hour has sounded in history when the church... must say of herself what Christ intended and willed her to be, and what the age-long meditation of the fathers, pontiffs and doctors in their wisdom has explored with piety. The church must give a definition of herself and bring out from her true consciousness the doctrine which the Holy Spirit teaches her."

He called the sharing of papal-episcopal authority "the weightiest and most delicate" of the problems facing the council.

The Pope made it plain that shared authority would not lessen papal primacy.

He said centralization of authority in the Vatican is a necessity for unity of the church but he added that centralization "will surely be always tempered and balanced by an alert and timely delegation both of authority and of facilities for local pastors."

He said popes as possessors of full power over the church have the duty of heading the episcopate.

"Nevertheless," he added, "our position in no way defrauds you, our brother bishops, of your due authority. On the contrary, we are among the first to respect that sacred authority."

Rare Mass

The council session in St. Peter's Basilica got under way with a Mass of Concelebration — a rarity that symbolized shared authority.

The Pope participated in this ceremony with 24 bishops, all of whom prayed together at the consecration of the host — the heart of the Mass — and partook of the same consecrated wafer and wine.

As for Christian unity, Pope Paul issued a promise of his church and an appeal to non-Catholic Christians.

"We shall therefore strive, in loyalty to the unity of Christ's church, to understand better and to welcome all that is genuine and admissible in the different Christian denominations that are distinct from us," he said.

Cardinal McIntyre Collapses

Vatican City (AP) — This third meeting of the Vatican Council opened under a hot glare of television arc lights and in the heat James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles collapsed.

He went by ambulance to a Rome hospital where doctors said the 78-year-old American cardinal showed no heart difficulty and needed a few days of rest and medical testing. Cardinal McIntyre flew to Rome Sunday night. The doctors said too little sleep and too much heat felled him.

The Rev. Oscar Cullman, Protestant theologian of Paris and Basel, also fainted and was treated at the basilica first aid station. He resumed his place later among more than 60 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox observers invited to witness the council.

Freedom Medal To 30

From Press Reports

Washington—Thirty prominent Americans, including a snappily saluting Carl Sandburg, received the Presidential Medal of Freedom from President Johnson in White House ceremonies Monday.

"Our glory is peace, not war; our greatness is in people, not power," Johnson said after presenting the nation's highest civilian award, originated by the late President Kennedy, to labor leader John L. Lewis, author John Steinbeck, filmmaker Walt Disney and others.

When Sandburg's name was called the 86-year-old poet-historian stood beside his chair and asked the President:

"I salute you here and then walk up?"

The President beckoned whose medals were accompanied by citations of special distinction.

Lincoln Expert

Sandburg, an authority on Abraham Lincoln, then moved in front of Johnson, saluted smartly and said, "6th Illinois Volunteers."

Johnson smiled warmly and pulled Sandburg—who once served in the 6th Illinois Volunteers during the Spanish-American War—around beside him in the spotlight.

The President had a kiss on the cheek for Mrs. J. Frank Dobie, representing her husband, who was ill, a Southwestern historian and longtime friend of Johnson.

U.S. Charges Guards Endangered Yank Lives

Berlin (UPI)—The United States charged Monday that communist border guards endangered the lives of American soldiers and West Berliners when they shot a refugee escaping over the Berlin wall.

The U.S. charge was contained in a note of protest to the Soviets. The note referred to Sunday's incident at the wall in which five U.S. Army military policemen braved communist gunfire to help the wounded refugee scale the barrier and reach safety in the American sector.

West German police fired back at the communists. The ensuing gun battle was said to have been the most critical incident to erupt along the wall since Soviet and American tanks faced each other when it was built three years ago.

Rejected

Informed sources said the Soviets rejected the U.S. protest.

May Get Medal

One of the Americans in the incident, Spec. 4 Hans W. Puhl, 22, of East Weymouth, Mass., was considered an almost certain candidate for a valor medal.

The blond, German-born MP pulled the refugee over the wall. He pointed his rifle into the eastern sector and threw one tear gas grenade.

Goldwater Assault On JFK 'Indecent'

Kansas City, Mo. (UPI)—he is not naive about this. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey charged Monday that Sen. Barry M. Goldwater "exceeded all bounds of truth and decency" by claiming that the late President John F. Kennedy timed the Cuban missile crisis for political effect.

Goldwater made the charge in a foreign policy speech in Seattle last Wednesday.

Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, said that in the speech, "We heard slanderous charges of opportunism and cynicism so far-reaching as to be believable only of monsters."

'Mighty Fortress'

The Minnesota senator attacked Goldwater's foreign policy statements in a speech here Monday night capping off a day of campaigning in Missouri. The burden of his remarks was that the GOP nominee was trying to destroy "the mighty fortress of American bipartisanship in foreign affairs."

But he also criticized Goldwater for saying in Seattle that the 1962 Cuban missile crisis "proved that despite weeks, and months, of warning, about the missiles, an administration totally political in its goals and instincts could and would wait until the perilous last moment to take action — take action at a time that would have maximum domestic political impact."

Humphrey said: "Here, in this charge, the Republican nominee has struck a new low in his campaign of slander and smear. I know that the charge is false. Sen. Goldwater should know that the charge is false."

"Sen. Goldwater may be naive about many things, but he is not naive about this. He has been in Washington for years. He knows how the great processes of government work in times of national crisis.

"What can we think of a man now aspiring to the presidency of the United States who deliberately attacks the patriotism, honesty, and integrity of a recently martyred holder of that office? What can we think of a presidential candidate who smears with the brush of partisan political politics the most fateful decision any president has made in this decade?"

Goldwater, he said, is a member of the Senate preparedness subcommittee which held "exhaustive top-secret hearings in the spring of 1963 on every aspect of the Cuban missile crisis." Therefore, Humphrey said, "Sen. Goldwater knows the full story of the Cuban missile crisis at a privileged level of detail."

Raving

"I cannot believe that this ill-advised charge reflects the conscience of a conservative," Humphrey said. "It is the raving of a desperate office-seeker."

The Minnesotan said that in Seattle, Goldwater also "cut at the heart" of the tradition that America has a bipartisan foreign policy. "In his recklessness Barry Goldwater has taken on more than just the Democratic Party," he said. "He has flown in the face of history and reality."

"And he has assaulted the work of the giants of his own great party, the architects of bipartisanship — Henry L. Stimson, Wendell L. Willkie, Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, John Foster Dulles and Dwight D. Eisenhower."

$4 Million Residential Plan Stirs Beatrice City Council

Southeast Nebraska Bureau Beatrice — Talk of a $4 million residential development which could begin here within 90 days jerked the City Council to attention Monday night.

Realtor F. Warren Smith Jr. disclosed the likelihood while urging that the city underwrite the full cost of sewer lift stations necessitated by this or any future developments of 10 acres or more.

Switching to this from its present 50-50 financing policy, he said, would assure the project's start.

Continuing the policy that property owners bear half the cost would jeopardize the plans, he continued, by discouraging construction. Declining to discuss the development, he said it would be part of an anticipated $7 to $8 million of added residential valuation in the next decade — this besides a predicted $10 to $20 million of industrial expansion.

"You're gambling $12,000 against a $4 million development," he told the council. His reference apparently was to the extra amount the city would assume by altering its 50-50 policy.

Although some resistance to changing the policy was evident, Mayor W. W. Cook Sr. said he believed the move should be considered.

"We have a responsibility to encourage people to come in any way that we can," he commented.

In other action, the $23,350 bid of Dean Ubben Realty was accepted for the soon-to-be-vacated downtown fire station. Ubben raised his own sealed $12,650 bid to the point of acceptance, the only other one submitted being for $10.

The council also voted 7-0 500.

to go ahead with a new Bureau of Reclamation power allocation and contract after Mayor Cook in effect removed an earlier veto. Noting that about $40,000 per year would be saved from Bureau power over a like amount purchased from Consumers Public Power District, he said he would "go along" with the contracts' provisions.

The mayor had disapproved the five-year proposal after questioning whether it gave the Bureau the right to set city power rates.

10% Of Wheat Fields Planted

... 15% Corn Safe From Frost

Approximately 10% of the intended Nebraska winter wheat acreage has been planted, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics said Monday.

Showers have relieved some of the extremely dry seeded conditions in parts of the west, but the showers have been "generally quite local," the division said.

Some wheat has been planted in very dry soil and must receive moisture for proper germination and emergence.

The division said fall seeding of legumes is progressing favorably and by last weekend was about 40% completed.

The statisticians said the maturity of row crops "continues to advance ahead of schedule." Nearly 70% of the corn is in the dent stage or beyond—which is about four days ahead of normal.

Approximately 15% of the corn was rated mature and safe from frost.

Sorghum Harvest Begins

The grain sorghum harvest has begun in scattered areas. Late shoots are causing uneven ripening in many fields.

Corn and sorghums replanted in June in the northeast are late and will need some more frost-free time, the division said. It added that some of the replanted crops will probably be utilized as silage.

Soybeans were described as making "good progress," with some fields beginning to turn color.

The harvest of dry beans has started in the west with many yields running better than expected. Quality of the beans is good to excellent.

The harvest of the third alfalfa cutting is nearing completion and nearly one-fifth of the fourth cutting has been taken.

The division noted cattle are being moved into feedlots somewhat earlier than usual. Rather short range and pasture feed in many areas is partly responsible for the early movement.

Stock and feeder cattle are also moving into marketing channels. Most animals are carrying good firm flesh, the division said.

Rainfall received throughout the state during the past week included:

Grand Island	35	Norfolk	11
Lincoln	19	Omaha	30

North Platte	40	West	24

Labor Union, City Clash On Hastings Case

Attorneys for the city of Hastings and a labor union clashed before the Nebraska Industrial Relations Court Monday on the question of just who should be on an employee committee dealing with the Hastings Board of Public Works on conditions of employment, wages and allied matters affecting utility employees at Hastings.

City Atty. Gerald Whelan contended the employee committee should be made up only of actual employees.

David Weinberg, attorney for Local 507 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, disagreed stoutly.

Weinberg said Hastings utility employees already have chosen Local 507 as their representative.

"Mr. Whelan wants this court to order the employees not to have any outside help," said Weinberg.

He said this would "foreclose the union" from providing expert assistance and "might even smack of unconstitutional" because it would deny the right to representation by counsel.

Whelan, in turn, argued that the Board of Public Works and the employee committee could carry on their discussions and reach agreements "a lot better if the attorneys stay home."

John R. Baylor of Lincoln, presiding over the three-judge Industrial Relations Court, said the court's opinion on this point probably won't be delivered for several weeks.

The suit was brought by Local 507 against the city of Hastings and its Board of Public Works.

The court decided subsequently that it could not force the Hastings board and the union to bargain collectively.

The court then appointed Wallace M. Rudolph of the University of Nebraska Law College to investigate and report.

Monday's hearing was called by the court to consider Rudolph's report and hear views on it from the opposing attorneys.

'Number of Issues' Rudolph had found that there were a number of issues in dispute between the public works board and employees, including the merit plan, wages, fringe benefits, promotions, tying of wages of utility employees to those of other city employees, and the right of employees to be represented by persons of their own choosing.

Rudolph recommended that the Industrial Relations Court retain jurisdiction, that it order the Hastings board to recognize Local 507 as representative of employees, that the Hastings board deal on conditions of employment only with recognized representatives of the employees, and that the Industrial Relations Court order a later hearing on the specific issues of wages and working conditions in dispute.

tacted the governors of Iowa and Minnesota and federal officials, including Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman, about disorderly NFO demonstrations and incidents of violence.

NFO members in 23 states five weeks ago began to hold their livestock from market in order to force packers to meet demands for minimum prices for livestock.

Reynolds met during last weekend with NFO President Oren Lee Staley, of Rea, Mo. Staley pledged close co-operation with law enforcement groups.

Monday Staley also urged NFO members in 23 states to "make the holding effort very tight this week as a memorial" to two NFO members who were killed in a demonstration at Bonduel, Wis., last week.

The men were crushed by the wheels of a livestock truck attempting to crash a picket line.

In another Wisconsin incident, dynamite blasts Sunday damaged two Oscar Meyer packing plants. Several Wisconsin livestock markets have shut down because of NFO demonstrations.

Mixed Results

Staley's call for an all-out holding rally had mixed results.

Livestock business was halted at the Terre Haute, Ind., yards of the Producers Marketing Association Monday after 50 NFO members blocked the loading dock at 7 a.m. More NFO supporters arrived hourly.

At Chicago, hog receipts of 10,000 were about two thirds more than a year ago. Packers paid a high of $18.75 for meat type hogs, 15 cents less than Friday and well under the $22.75 the NFO is demanding.

But Staley appeared optimistic that it wouldn't be long before supplies would dwindle at livestock yards from Idaho to Pennsylvania.

Lincoln General Gives Qualified 'No' To St. Elizabeth Proposal

By DAVID HENDRICKSON Star Staff Writer

A qualified "no" was given by members of the Lincoln General Hospital board of directors Monday night when they were asked by members of the St. Elizabeth Hospital board whether they would support a community hospital plan for Lincoln.

The reply of the Lincoln general board members to the St. Elizabeth officials was generally summed up by Lincoln General board member Robert Guenzel.

"We have our application in for allocations (under the Hill-Burton Act); we stand by that application. In the event that the community plan is adopted by the Lincoln Hospital Council, we could go on with our construction within the framework of the new plan."

Will Recommend Plan

Kenneth Witt, president of the St. Elizabeth board, had told the Lincoln General group that the community plan would make available federal funds under the Hill-Burton Act to allow both hospitals to build needed facilities.

Despite the partially negative reply from Lincoln General, Witt announced that the St. Elizabeth board would recommend the community hospital plan to the Lincoln Hospital Council Tuesday.

At present, Lincoln General has top priority with the Lincoln Hospital Council for such funds. On the basis of that priority, officials of that hospital plan to break ground for their new multi-million dollar plant this fall.

Witt told the group that he recently queried the hospital division of the State Health Department and the regional office of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in order to determine whether the accelerated allocations to Lincoln, proposed by the community plan, were possible.

Answer Told

From Edwin M. Given, hospital and medical facilities advisor for the region, Witt said he received the following answer:

"Such a program (providing joint allocation of Hill-Burton funds for both Lincoln General and St. Elizabeth over several years) is feasible barring changes in the philosophy of the Congress."

As things stand now, Lincoln General officials expect to receive $450,000 via Hill-Burton in fiscal year 1966, $1,100,000 in 1967, and $400,000 in 1968.

Under the community hospital plan, Lincoln General would receive Hill-Burton funds a year earlier—$150,000 in fiscal year 1965, $750,000 in 1966, $600,000 in 1967, and $500,000 in 1968. St. Elizabeth, on the other hand, would receive funds—$150,000—as early as fiscal year 1966 under the community plan.

Restaurateur Helps Rehabilitate Convicts

By ROBERT PETERSON

One of the great blights on our society is the prevalence of crime. What makes it particularly frustrating is that those released from prison often drift back into crime and there seems nothing the average citizen can do about it.

One of the few persons with a private crusade of criminal rehabilitation is Arthur Maisel, 52, who operates a string of restaurants on the Atlantic Coast.

"When I was about 40," Maisel told me, "a man I knew slightly asked if he could talk to me. He said his brother had been in jail several years on a first offense but could be paroled if he had assurance of a job.

"When I phoned parole officials they said the man in question seemed a good risk so I promised him a job. When he was released we had a talk. He was in his late 20's, had dropped out of high school and had no specific skills. His family background was poor. No one had ever taken much of an interest in him and he'd drifted from one job to another. Then he and some companions needed money so they tried to rob a store and were caught.

"He seemed basically a good kid who had made a mistake, had paid his debt and now wanted to go straight. So I put him to work in one of my restaurants, alongside a short order cook. I'd stop by every day or so and see how he was doing and assured him that if he proved dependable and learned restaurant work he had a very bright future. He became one of my most dependable employees."

After seeing at first hand the rehabilitative value of providing first offenders with a job and a little personal interest, Maisel went to parole officials and offered to help others eligible for parole. In the past dozen years he has given jobs to about 1,000 first offenders. How many turned out well? "I wish I could say all of them," said Maisel, "but about 80% have fully justified my faith in them. Many moved on to other jobs, but a surprising number have kept in touch with me."

Has this policy had any effect on business? "Apparently not, but at first various people warned me the public wouldn't want to patronize a place if word got around that some of the help had criminal backgrounds. I told them I was willing to take the chance for I'm convinced this is the most effective form of criminal rehabilitation.

"Putting a person in jail doesn't change his attitude toward life and society. The only thing that can change this is for someone to take an interest in him and help him find a job, develop skills and create a new way of life."

Is it true that most of his employees are past 40 years of age? "Yes, I'd say that nearly 90% of our 2,200 personnel in 14 restaurants are past that milestone.

"Age seems to bring a sense of responsibility and a more dependable nature. When I first got into the restaurant business two decades ago I used younger employees almost exclusively. But over the years I've come to the conclusion that those past 40 are more willing to work, are more apt to be on the job regularly and are more effective in dealing with the public."

Vote Set On Removing Ten-Mile Power Limit

CHARTER AMENDMENT BALLOT OK'D BY COUNCIL

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer
The City Council Monday approved placement on the Nov. 3 ballot of a city charter amendment removing the 10-mile limit on its municipal power facilities.

Mayor Dean Petersen and attorney Clarence Davis, special legal consultant to the city, said the charter amendment was needed in connection with negotiations between the city and Consumers Public Power District for acquisition of Consumers' Lincoln district.

Following public hearing, the council decided not to place other proposed amendments on the November ballot, but to defer them for further study.

Zoning For 84th And J Shopping Center Denied

The City Council Tuesday voted 5-2 to deny requested G-1 planned commercial zoning for a proposed $750,000 neighborhood shopping center at the northwest corner of 84th and J.

He noted that 84th and A was the intersection of the two major arterial streets and the city has located shopping centers on the one-mile intersections generally.

Four residents of the 84th and A area opposed the commercial zoning, saying the shopping center is not needed and would intrude upon "prime residential land."

Long Draws Life Term In Knife Slaying

Storm Lake, Iowa (AP)—Merlin C. Long, 31, of Omaha, was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday for first degree murder in the knife slaying of Bonnie Johnson, 29, of Sioux Rapids on June 23.

The council also denied on a 6-1 vote, with Becker dissenting, the application of Richard L. and Susan A. Stoehr and Conrad T. and Lucille J. Nelson, doing business as Ace Liquor Drive-Inn for a package liquor license at 540 N. 48th.

The council set hearing for Sept. 28 on the application for T & J Co. for an off-sale beer license at 123 N. 14th.

Council Alters Zoning Of 'Transitional Lots'

A zoning code amendment providing that medical and dental offices may be located on "transitional lots" adjoining commercial or business districts was approved Monday by the City Council.

The code change would repeal "special permit" provisions for the locating of medical offices in residentially-zoned areas.

CITY OKAYS PAVING FOR NORTH 70TH

The City Council Monday created Paving District 1951 for the 44-foot-wide paving of 70th from Leighton to Adams.

The council also indicated that 70th might be declared an arterial in requesting a traffic study and recommendation from Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger.

Council action on other third reading ordinances:

- Passed:
 - Sewer District 784 for Westgate Addition.
 - Paving District 1949 for 60th from Vine to Earl Drive and Earl Drive from 60th to west line of Krueger's Second Addition.
 - Paving District 1950 for Bel Mar Section Addition near 15th and Atlas Ave.
 - Water District 638 for Krueger's Second Addition near 70th and Vine.
 - Sewer District 782 for Vine from 59th to 60th.
 - Ornamental Lighting District 78 for Krueger's Second Addition.
- Deferred:
 - H-1 highway business zoning for 22nd and P.
 - G local business zoning for 18th and Washington.
 - G local business zoning for Belmont between 9th and 11th.

Anything this homely has got to be good.

The VW Station Wagon may look silly. But it's so sensible, it makes all the others look even sillier.

We started by chipping away at every senseless old idea we could find.

Hoods didn't seem to be doing anything useful, for example, so we don't have one.

The engine is tucked in back instead.

We saved an inch here and an inch there and got a machine that holds nearly twice what regular wagons hold: over a ton.

The VW holds 9 people, not 6. When you take out the middle seat, it holds 6 anyway. Plus a piano.

You like windows? There are 21.

Doors? 2 huge and 3 very huge.

The VW runs for next to nothing, and you don't have to go into hock for life to buy one.

You just can't find anything frivolous or flimsy or merely for the sake of looks. Because the rule works both ways: Anything this good has got to be homely.

Opponents Of Delay Agree On Compromise Substitute

Washington (AP)—Opponents of a controversial proposal to delay for a year or more court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures reached informal agreement Monday night on a compromise substitute.

Its acceptance by the Senate would smooth the passage of President Johnson's $3.3 billion foreign aid bill and remove a major obstacle to adjournment of Congress.

It will be submitted Tuesday after overnight conferences designed to reach final agreement on language. A vote is scheduled for the afternoon.

Two Negroes Enter Mississippi U Quietly

Oxford, Miss. (AP)—The University of Mississippi announced Monday for the fall semester in quiet contrast to rioting which accompanied desegregation here in 1962.

The university said Cleveland Donald, who began his freshman work during the summer term, was joined Monday by Irvin Walker, another freshman, from Jackson.

The university news service said the two would room together.

"Nobody paid any attention to them," said Pat Smith, director of the news service.

Meredith

Desegregation reached the university two years ago, when James Meredith, a 29-year-old Kosciusko Negro veteran, won a federal court order directing the university to admit him.

Then Gov. Ross Barnett turned back Meredith on several efforts to gain entrance onto the campus, but he finally won admission under federal escort.

In the resulting night of riots, two persons were killed and scores were hurt before the campus settled down to normal appearance.

Quietly In Jackson

About the same time that the Negro enrollments were announced at Ole Miss, 33 Negro first graders quietly began classes in all-white schools in Jackson, under federal court orders. There were no incidents.

At Meridian, Mrs. Fannie Chaney, mother of slain civil rights worker James Chaney, led three other Negro mothers in an attempt to enroll four girls and a boy at the Chalk Elementary School. They were turned back with the explanation that they were not registered.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said suits will be filed in nine new communities seeking integration of public schools.

Gov. Frank Morrison Monday signed an agreement for the securing of patent rights on the production of amylose starch films in 29 foreign nations.

The agreement involves the American Maize Products Co. of New York City, which is building a plant at Central City to produce and further develop the product.

Amylose film is made from corn starch and is used to package food and pharmacy items. The film is soluble in water and is edible.

Under terms of the agreement, American Maize will secure the patent rights in the foreign nations and, in turn, pay royalties to the State.

The film was developed under Nebraska's tax-financed program of research into new uses for agricultural products, directed by State Agriculture Director Pearl Finigan.

Finigan said American Maize plans to dedicate its Central City plant soon and begin producing the film there this fall.

He said patent rights will be sought in the Union of South Africa, Peru, Austria, Switzerland, Holland, Italy, Japan, France, Finland, West Germany, Spain, Chile, Australia, New Zealand, Norway, Ireland, Sweden, Denmark, Israel, Brazil, Argentina, Columbia, Mexico, Panama, Belgium, the Philippines, Ecuador, Venezuela and Luxembourg.

Eat Lots Of Fish

Tokyo (AP)—Jubei Nakamura's formula for good health is plenty of seafood but no tobacco or alcohol. A retired fisherman, Nakamura is Japan's oldest citizen at the age of 112. The country has 191 residents over 100, it was announced on the eve of Old People's day.

As drafted it would allow the state "adequate time" to: (1) comply with the Supreme Court ruling or (2) consider a proposed constitutional amendment Congress would submit.

Shortly after the floor exchange, however, sponsors of the compromise agreed to eliminate what Douglas called a "pledge" that Congress would submit such an amendment.

At the suggestion of the liberals, the sponsors—Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.—agreed to change the first part of the amendment to make it allow "reasonable time" to comply with the court decision.

The second part was changed to read that "in the event" Congress should submit a constitutional amendment, the fact that it has been submitted to the states for ratification should be taken into consideration by the courts in enforcing the Supreme Court ruling.

On a test vote last Thursday, a motion to table and thus kill the Dirksen amendment was defeated 49 to 38. That vote came after the Senate refused, 63 to 30, to adopt a cloture petition to limit debate against the Dirksen rider.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the Senate majority leader, is a co-sponsor of the Dirksen rider. If he should support the compromise, it would enhance its chances of adoption.

If the Senate adopts the compromise the leadership anticipates an effort to substitute for it the language of a tough House-passed bill which would strip the federal courts of any jurisdiction over state apportionment. Democratic leaders claim enough votes to defeat this.

President Johnson, the Democratic nominee, also turns South Tuesday, flying to Miami for a speech at the International Association of Machinists convention. But he'll come back to Washington after the speech.

Trainmen Agree Not To Call More Strikes Against Ruling

Washington (AP)—The AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen agreed in federal court Monday not to call any further strikes against a government arbitration ruling.

The union consented to an injunction barring any strike until the arbitration ruling expires Jan. 25, 1966.

The consent decree issued by the U.S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff followed a preliminary injunction the Judge issued last June after the union struck several railroads. The arbitration ruling, handed down last year under a special act of Congress, has been upheld by the Supreme Court. It calls for gradual elimination of thousands of railroad jobs and the review of others for possible elimination.

The AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the union most drastically affected by the arbitration ruling, earlier had been permanently enjoined from striking over issues arising from the arbitration award.

Plan To Raise Rent On All State School Land Dropped

The State Board of Educational Lands and Funds Monday rescinded a decision of last May to raise rents on all state school land leases.

"We think it's better to try out the new schedules on the 1965 lease renewals rather than being a blanket thing," Board Chairman H. L. Blackledge of Kearney reported following a board session from which newsmen were barred.

The state owns about 1,628,000 acres of state school land rented out under some 4,700 leases.

Several hundred leases come up for 12-year renewals this year.

Rents are calculated on the basis of 6% of the land's value each year. The proposed increase in rents thus would have involved a statewide increase in the appraised value of the lands.

Lands now are assessed for rental purposes at $40 million, although Board Secretary Elmer Mahlin said Monday the lands actually have a "conservative market value of $80 million."

Under the board's decision last May ordering a general increase in rents effective next Jan. 1, some of the rental fees would have been as much as doubled.

King Constantine of Greece and Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark had a close conversation Monday at a public reception in Athens. The royal pair will be married in the Greek capital Friday.

Goldwater To Head Into Former Democratic Preserve In Vote Hunt

Washington (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater heads south Tuesday, hunting votes in what once was the Democrats' own private game preserve.

But even before the Republican presidential nominee left Washington a Southern senator said Goldwater's only claim to Southern support—his vote against the 1964 civil rights act—is a claim of spite and futility.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who joined Goldwater in opposing the Civil Rights bill, said Democratic programs have brought "new hope, new growth and new opportunity to the South."

Risk Decision

"The question which Southerners must now ask themselves," he said in a Senate speech, "is whether they are willing to risk all these programs—to say nothing of the risks of a reckless foreign policy—for the sake of a single futile act of political vengeance."

President Johnson, the Democratic nominee, also turns South Tuesday, flying to Miami for a speech at the International Association of Machinists convention. But he'll come back to Washington after the speech.

Miller Preparing

Humphrey's Republican rival, Rep. William E. Miller was, like Goldwater, in Washington Monday preparing for a new drive for voters Tuesday. Miller's first stop of a Southwestern and Midwestern tour of the Far West and Midwest.

Goldwater's southern tour begins at Winston-Salem, N.C., and carries him later in the day to Atlanta, Orlando, Petersburg area.

In another development, GOP national chairman Dean Burch Monday filed a formal complaint with the Fair Campaign Practices Committee against a Democratic television commercial of the "horror type," as Burch put it.

On NBC

Burch said the commercial had the full approval of Johnson and was carried by the National Broadcasting Co. on Sept. 7.

Johnson, after his Miami trip, plans to head West later

Congress On Steel

Trabert Named To Head County's Welfare Office

J. Earle Trabert, 63, retiring after 27 years with the State Department of Welfare, has been appointed Lancaster County welfare director by the Lancaster County Commissioners.

Trabert will assume the county directorship Oct. 1, replacing John Gage, who resigned to become state welfare director July 1.

Commissioner Ralph Harlan noted that "the county is very lucky to gain a man of Trabert's experience" for the post. He noted that many applicants had been interviewed for the position, including Trabert, who at first declined offer of the post.

Rietfors To Remain

Trabert will receive a salary of $815 a month as director. John Rietfors, assistant director who has been acting director since July, will remain as Trabert's assistant.

Trabert is presently chief of the division of information and services of the state welfare department. He joined the department in December, 1937, as statistician. In June, 1941 he was appointed manager of the food stamp plan for the state.

In June, 1943, Trabert was named assistant to the chief of the division of research, statistics, finance and accounting, a position he held until he was named to his present job in January, 1952.

No Changes Planned

After assuming the county post next month, Trabert says he will make no changes in personnel or in procedures. "In my present post, I have supervised the county office," Trabert explained, "and I know the office staff well. It is one of the finest in the state."

Prior to his welfare department experience, Trabert served as schools superintendent for 10 years in Pickrell, Virginia, Roselan and Cairo, Nebr. He also supervised a WPA research project for one year.

A 1926 graduate of the University of Nebraska, Trabert holds a bachelor of science degree. He received his master's degree from NU in 1934.

Morning Ceremony

White snapdragons, gladioli and pompon chrysanthemums appointed the altar of St. Patrick's Church in Stoneham, Mass., Saturday morning, Sept. 12, for the marriage of Miss Martha Anne MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. MacDonald of Stoneham, to Paul David Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Smith of Lincoln. The 11 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. John Toomey, and Mr. MacDonald, father of the bride, was the vocal soloist.

Frocked in pastel blue organza with fitted jackets in a deeper blue were Mrs. Theodore Eldracher, Jr., of Maplewood, N.J., who was her sister's matron of honor; Miss Constance MacDonald, Stoneham, as her sister's maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Paul McDonald, Littleton, Mass.; and Mrs. Joseph Ralph MacDonald, Jr., Groton, Mass. They carried cascades of pale yellow and blue daisies.

James Allyn Smith of Lincoln served his brother as best man, and seating the guests were Richard Horowitz and Stephen Russell, Belmont, Mass.; and Joseph Ralph MacDonald, Jr., Groton, Mass., brother of the bride.

The bride chose for her wedding a princess gown of ivory peau de soie touched with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The sculptured bodice was designed with fitted elbow sleeves and a squared neckline, and the bell skirt was draped into back fullness and extended into an aisle-wide train. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a Dior bow of the silk, and her crescent bouquet was fashioned of white Marguerite daisies.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Lexington, Mass. The bride is a former student at Northeastern University, Boston, and Mr. Smith, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, received his Masters degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.

GOOD MORNING—FOR NEWS

It's a great, big wonderful world we live in — if you're PDQ with your ABC's, and we're not talking about government bureaus or projects. We're talking about the fun things you read — when you are just thumbing through this or that.

For example — The Hyannis Tribune had a little gem not too long ago —

"Now that we have tried taxation with representation, what was wrong with that other kind?"

We also have discovered (by reading) that the writers of articles for the "veddy veddy" smart set have a vocabulary that hasn't reached the plains of Nebraska — as yet. In speaking of things enjoyed by the teen-age set (we're sorry to be so conservative) the phrase is "yeh yeh". It's a "yeh yeh" sweater, or a "yeh yeh" record, or a "yeh yeh" movie, or just a "yeh yeh" ordinary hamburger.

There seems to be a slight difference in spelling among the writers, however. Columnists stick by the "yeh yeh" — Some of the fashion writers drop the "h" and come up with "ye ye ye". The choice is yours.

Don't try to buy one of these — There aren't any in Lincoln at the moment BUT, the little old Swiss watch makers have come up with something mighty fancy in the way of a clock — The fancy angle is an alarm mechanism, and even the soundest sleeper will rise and shine on Monday mornings when his alarm says, in a girl's soft tender voice, "Wake up, darling!" — and on Tuesday mornings when a dog barks — on Thursday mornings when a gruff male voice says "Get up. You're late for work." On Friday a canary sings. Nothing is said about Saturday, so we suspect that the clock strictly is for the five-day week group.

As much as we might enjoy reading we also have a fondness for the spoken word — And we have a few to pass on.

Did you know, for instance, that Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holtz left Lincoln last Friday to reside in Santa Barbara, Calif.? We also have the address of their new home — at least it will be the address when the house is completed — It is 4510 Carriage Hill Dr., and anyone who knows Santa Barbara at all well will know that Carriage Hill Drive is in the vicinity of Hope Ranch. Prior to their move to Santa Barbara Mr. and Mrs. Holtz spent a week in Rochester, N. Y., where they were the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Branch.

From Overland Park, Kan. comes news of the arrival of Kathryn Estelle Yant on Tuesday, Sept. 8. The young lady is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yant and her mother is the former Marion Elizabeth (M. E.) Limpo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Limpo of Sioux Falls, S. D. — and Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson of Beverly Hills, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, are the paternal grandparents.

The new Pi Phi legacy, incidentally, has two older brothers — Dick, who is four years old — and Bill, who is two.

Beginning with today September is split right up the middle — Fifteen days gone — 15 more to come.

We, however, are particularly interested in tomorrow morning, Sept. 16th because the Nebraska Art Association opens the current season with a 10:30 o'clock meeting. Presiding will be the new president, Mrs. Edward J. Walt.

What, exactly, is on the agenda for the members of the Nebraska Art Association we don't know — But we did some prowling around at the Sheldon Memorial Gallery and discovered that there are fascinating events on the Gallery's autumn calendar.

One of these extremely good things opens tonight — it is an exhibition of drawings and paintings by Frank Sampson. Just in case the name is not as familiar as it should be, we'll tell you that Mr. Sampson is on the faculty of the art department at the University of Colorado.

During those 15 days still allotted to September the Sheldon Gallery will be busy — There is a ceramics show coming up — on Sept. 21st, we believe — and later in the same week there will be an exhibition of sculpture. As we said before, autumn will be a busy season at the Sheldon Gallery.

Count the day lost when there isn't at least one guest to mention — We're happy to say that we aren't sending out a searching party for Tuesday.

We were told that Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Conklin have had as their guests the past 10 days their son, William J. Conklin, and his son Christopher J. Conklin both of New York City. William Conklin is the architectural designer for the firm of Whitteley and Conklin in New York. The visitors also spent some time in Mr. Conklin's old home town, Hubbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Conklin also had another house guest — but just for the weekend. Their grandson, Midshipman David C. Denney, came from Fairbury where he is visiting his family, for a brief stay with his grandparents. He soon will return to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis where he is a third year man.

Courtesy

Entertaining at her home Friday was Mrs. Harvey Traudt who was hostess at a morning coffee honoring Mrs. James Eastman of Seattle, formerly of Lincoln.

The guests were Mrs. Jay-Cees, of which Mrs. Eastman is a former member.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastman and their children, David, Bobby and Johnny, left Sunday to return home after a week's visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eastman and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stein.

Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Koch will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Sept. 20, when they will entertain at an open house at 6618 Morrill.

Friends and relatives of the couple are asked to attend between the hours of 2 o'clock and 4 o'clock without further invitation.

Betrothal Announced

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Hall to Joseph Henry Panghorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verne A. Panghorn of Lincoln, is announced this morning by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Hall of Pawnee into which they moved a week ago yesterday.

City. Miss Hall is a senior at the University of Nebraska School of Nursing in Omaha. Mr. Panghorn is a senior at the University of Nebraska. A December wedding is planned.

From Little Rock, Ark., have come Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Hale and their daughter, Susan, who are now making their home on West Rio Road.

Nebraska is not new territory to Mr. Hale, however, since he is one of Kearney's native sons.

Another new family in the Eastborough area — as of August, are Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Pinkston and their daughter, Denise.

Mr. and Mrs. Pinkston and Denise moved to Lincoln in June from North Platte and have just recently moved into their home in Eastborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson returned home recently from a two-day holiday trip to Gavins Point in South Dakota.

They departed Lincoln last Friday afternoon and spent their two days fishing — a project which turned out very successfully. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson also spent some time in Yankton, S.D., before returning home last Saturday evening.

EASTMONT

Entertaining an out-of-town guest at her home in Eastmont on Saturday morning was Mrs. Charles Pelikan.

A Red Apple For The Teacher

Faculty members at Robin Mickle Junior High were the honored recipients of a popular school tradition on Monday morning when they arrived at their desks for the first day of school to find a big, shiny red apple—a gift from their pupils and the PTA.

Dear Abby

Don't Make Something Out Of Harmless Gesture

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago my sister told me that my husband never missed a chance to hug and squeeze a certain woman we both know. I asked my husband about this and he denied it. My sister has a habit of making a lot of nothing, so I let the matter drop. I had really forgotten all about it until I saw this woman at our church picnic. My husband didn't know I was watching him and he came up behind this woman, placed both his hands on her bare arms and gave her a squeeze. She didn't seem surprised or angry, either. Since then I told my husband not to speak to me. I'd go to this woman's husband and tell him about it, but he's very jealous and might hurt my husband. Am I making something out of nothing, or do you think I have a problem? I've had men try stuff like that with me, but I've always given them such a dirty look they never tried it again. I'd appreciate your advice.

TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: Start talking to your husband and ask him to forgive your childish behavior. Your sister is a troublemaker. Avoid her. The woman probably knew your husband's "squeeze" was nothing more than an affectionate, innocent gesture. Grow up and thaw out or you'll create more problems than can be solved in one letter.

It Seams To Me

DEAR ABBY: I am blonde, five feet, three inches tall, weigh 110 pounds and have a fairly good shape. I live in a nice apartment which is beautifully furnished with my own things; in fact, I decorated it myself. I make a good living, do all kinds of art work as a hobby and have even sold some of my oil paintings. I can put on wallpaper as good as any professional, also paint, lay tile and even repair my own car. I am my own cook, housekeeper and I make my own clothes. When I go out there isn't a dance I can't do. Do you think I need a man?

MISS INDEPENDENT

DEAR MISS: Obviously you do, or the question would never have occurred to you.

DEAR ABBY: I still love this boy I went steady with. We broke up about two months ago. I have tried everything to forget him, but it is no use because I loved him too much from the start. I have called him up and all my girl friends have called him up, too, trying to get him to go back with me. They all say we are perfect for each other.

He always says he has something important to do. How can I get him back?

STILL CARES

DEAR STILL: If you want to get this boy back, your technique could hardly be worse. You've probably wrecked your chances by now so you have nothing to lose by ignoring him entirely, which is what you should have done in the first place.

Plan Club Project

The Soroptimist Club of Lincoln has announced that it will participate again this year in the national organization's Youth Citizenship program, a project which twice has received the Freedom Foundation's George Washington Honor Medal Award.

Open to any high school student in Lancaster County, graduating not later than June, 1965, the program honors the winner of a competition based on an essay of not more than 250 words on the topic, "My Responsibility As A Citizen—In The Family, In The Community, and In The World".

Application must be made with Mrs. Cecilia C. Bona, and both the winner and runner-up will be presented cash awards at a recognition dinner. The winning entry of the Lincoln club will be submitted in competition on a regional level from which the top entry will be chosen for a national award of $2,500.

Participating in the installation were Mrs. Margaret M. Davis, mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. C. M. Stewart, who conducted the installation; and Miss Aurelia Plautz, Lincoln Club president.

An address was given by Mrs. Ruth B. Klotz of Des Moines, Iowa, regional governor, and serving as hostesses for the reception honoring new club members were Dr. Ellen Moorhead Ball, Miss Selma Anderson, Mrs. Val Mills, Mrs. Bernard Matthews and Mrs. Fred Kindert, all of Lincoln.

Opening lead—nine of hearts.
The opening lead has an enormous effect on the outcome of many hands. It sometimes results in giving the declarer the contract, and at other times results in defeating the contract. Quite often it will change the entire course of the play, since the lead may force declarer to adopt a method of play which he would not otherwise have pursued.

For example, take this hand where West is on lead against four hearts. He has no clearly indicated play, since any lead he makes may turn out badly—depending on how the unseen cards are divided.

Let's say he decides to make the neutral lead of a trump. This proves to be as good a move as he can possibly make, since, if West had chosen a spade or a diamond, South could eventually have ruffed a spade in dummy and this acquired his tenth trick.

But the trump lead makes the outcome uncertain, as far as South is concerned. He has to decide at once whether or not to attempt to ruff a spade in dummy. In the actual hand, if he tries for a ruff, he goes down.

Thus, suppose he wins the heart and leads a spade at trick two. East wins and returns a trump. When declarer then leads another spade, West wins and plays his last trump. South eventually goes down, losing three spades and a club.

However, the trump lead should persuade South that trying for a spade ruff is apt to prove fruitless. The defense will obviously not sit still and let him ruff a spade in dummy.

So South turns to a different line of play forced upon him by the opening lead. After winning the first trick in dummy, he plays the ace and another club hoping to find the suit divided 3-3. This counterstroke proves successful, and, in fact, if the defenders do not cash two spade tricks at this point, South eventually makes eleven tricks.

A Bassinet For A Little Girl's Doll

Patricia Scott

All little girls like to pretend their dolls are their own babies, and nothing will please them more than a bassinet just like the ones for real babies.

Materials Needed: (Snap-on skirt fabric and trim yardage depend on size of basket) one fruit or tomato basket; fabric for skirt; one yard outing flannel; 12 dot snappers; rickrack for bottom of skirt; one-inch wide satin ribbon; bias binding.

To Make:

1. Wind satin ribbon around handle tightly, overlapping edges, as shown. Tack at each end and tie a bow at each side.

2. For quilted lining, measure width and length at inside bottom of basket. Add 3 inches to each measurement. Cut one piece of any cotton fabric and 2 pieces of flannel this size. Place 3 pieces together with cotton on bottom. Quilt, using quilting attachment.

3. Measure inside depth of basket and add 3 inches. Cut one piece of cotton and two pieces of flannel this size. Quilt as before. Stitch quilted bottom piece to side piece. Place inside basket allowing excess to overlap over top edge of basket. Make a slit in lining at each side to fit around handle.

4. Bind raw edge of lining with bias binding. Bind all around edge, including slit edges.

5. For ruffled skirt, measure distance around outside top edge of basket and add one inch. Cut strip of fabric same length, and 2½ inches wide for band around top of skirt. Fold band in half lengthwise, right sides together and stitch each end with a ½-inch seam. Band should fit around top of basket with ends meeting. Turn to right side and press.

6. For ruffle, measure depth on outside of basket and subtract ½ inch. Using this figure for width, cut a piece 2½ times longer than band. Turn under lower edge of ruffle ¼ inch and edge stitch. Stitch rickrack over this stitching line. Finish two short ends of ruffle with a narrow hem. Now, gather top of ruffle to fit band. Slip band over gathered edge of ruffle, turn under raw edges of band on outside and inside and top stitch to skirt.

7. Pin skirt to lining that overlaps basket, with top edge of band even with top edge of basket. Open ends of skirt meet at "head" of bassinet. Starting at each end of skirt, mark placement of dot snappers on band and lining. Remove skirt and lining and apply snappers with pliers for this purpose. Then place lining back in bassinet and snap the skirt on.

NOTE: It is advisable to interface band of skirt if dot snappers are used. If you prefer, you can use small buttonholes on skirt band instead of dot snappers.

SPORT SIGNALS

By Hal Brown
Sports Editor, The Star

How Others See It

Reaction of out-state writers and broadcasters to Don Pierce's annual Big Eight poll ranged from enthusiasm to hopeful optimism regarding the 1964 Nebraska football team.

Most of the enthusiasm was generated by a belief in Husker coach Bob Devaney, whom most of the writers and broadcasters treated as some sort of miracle worker. Bill Madden, sports editor of the Scottsbluff Star-Herald, expressed the feeling of many of those manning out-state papers when he penned, "But as long as the Cornhuskers have Bob Devaney as coach they'll be rugged customers."

Here's how other writers and broadcasters from Nebraska view the 1964 season:

MIKE MORAN, KMTV, Omaha—"I look for Bob Devaney's Huskers to repeat, despite gigantic losses in the line and some grade A backs in Dennis Claridge, Rudy Johnson and Willie Ross. Help will come from one of the top Huskers frosh teams ever, plus a gifted signal caller in Fred Duda and speedsters Kent McCloughan and Bobby Hohn. These men plus a sure fire all star in end Tony Jeter should carry the Scarlet to the top.

OU, KU To Tie

MIKE TREPS, KHAS-TV, Hastings—"The 1964 Big Eight race should be the tightest in history with every team with the possible exception of Nebraska to be improved. Oklahoma and KU could very well end in a tie with the Hawks catching the Sooners at Lawrence the week after an all out Sooner effort against Texas.

DON COLE, KFAB, Omaha—"I imagine I'll be going against the pack picking Missouri over Oklahoma but I think this is the year for a mighty Tiger aggregation. I pick the Huskers second because of one of the finest freshmen teams in Husker history and an ample number of returning lettermen at almost every position. The Huskers won't have Brown, Voss or Claridge but they will have Dervin and Duda, plus more good halfbacks than a team needs."

GARY SVOBODA, Alliance Daily Times Herald—"With Roland and Lane manning the guns, Missouri should have the league's best starting backfield. The Sooners, naturally, are a very close second on the chart. After these two come Nebraska and Kansas, the teams which should fight it out for the third spot. Nebraska gets the nod because of the weak defense display by the Jayhawks over the past few years. The Huskers are well stocked in sophomores, the best of which appears to be Harry 'Light Horse' Harry Wilson, a solid runner who Devaney has admitted in public is the best of the Husker sophs. That's pretty unusual talk for a coach, especially when he has a whole host of talented rookie backs."

Line Poses P Problem

JACK PAYNE, WOW, Omaha—"The line poses the big question at Nebraska. If young husky Huskers can progress through the first half of the schedule, they'll make it interesting any Saturday. Depth up front and a 'come-through' effort at quarterback could surprise the Big 8 pack. Oklahoma and Missouri show strong on returning strength; Kansas too will be much improved."

HUB FOSTER, York News-Times—"Nebraska, despite all of its graduation losses, might still surprise us again!"

WY CARLSON, Holdrege Daily Citizen—"Devaney and company, even without Claridge and Brown, are my favorites to top the Big 8. Look for the best soph crop in the conference to surprise."

JOE DINATALE, KODY, North Platte—"The cards point to the Sooners and the Jayhawks but don't be surprised if Bob Devaney deals the Huskers another winning hand. Those promising sophomores will be hard put to replace those scintillating seniors . . . But Devaney might be able to turn the trick."

Kansas To Press OU

BILL MADDEN, Scottsbluff Star-Herald—"Oklahoma regains the spotlight with the sophomore champions of two years back who now are fully seasoned seniors. Sooners must be "up" all the way, though, and especially so for Kansas, which is in position to take it all with what could be the best backfield in the league. Defending champion Nebraska appears to have lost too many good horses to repeat. But as long as the Cornhuskers have Bob Devaney as coach they'll be rugged customers."

LEN HOSKINS, Nebraska City News-Press—"Oklahoma has to be the team to win the Big 8. Missouri should press hard and Kansas could make it rough and be the darkhorse. Nebraska, although heavily hit by graduation, could surprise the dopesters."

DOYLE SMITH, Hastings Daily Tribune—"Nebraska's defending Big Eight champions have a lot of timber, but not a sufficient amount of returnees to hoist the title flag a second straight year. In fact, Kansas could press the Cornhuskers for third place. Coach Bob Devaney's proteges are no better than a third place choice, behind a strong Missouri and seasoned Oklahoma teams. A repeat championship by Nebraska would have to be considered a big surprise."

BOB VAN TINE, Kearney Hub—"Line losses should prove costly for defending champion Cornhuskers. The Sooners appear deep at all spots and boast one of the top ground gainers in Jim Grisham. The return of Johnny Roland stamps Missouri as the darkhorse."

Four Tie For National Amateur Lead With 71s

Cleveland (AP)—A doctor, two automobile dealers and a young man headed for military service shot even par 71s over the Canterbury course Monday for a blanket lead in the first qualifying round of the National Amateur Golf Championship.

Ed Tutwiler, a 45-year-old auto man from Indianapolis, made it the hardest way, getting birdies on the final two holes to tie Dr. Edgar Updegraff, 42, a urologist from Tucson, Ariz.; Charlie Smith, 33, who sells cars in Gastonia, N.C., and Bob Greenwood, 25, of Cookeville, Tenn., a former North Texas State student who is preparing to enter the national guard.

Young Greenwood, who once scored a match victory over Jack Nicklaus sank a 25-foot putt on the final green for his par round, but Updegraff and Smith let the lead get away in faltering finishes.

Updegraff, playing in his 10th U.S. amateur, needed one lay par for the final two holes to get a 69 but he bogied both. Smith, one under with a hole to play, sent his approach shot into three feet of rough and was unable to recover. He took a bogey five.

Nebraska State Amateur champion Bob Astleford of Omaha shot a four-over-par 75, combining a front nine 39 with a 36 on the back side to tie for 39th place after the first day's qualifying.

Devaney Kicks Aside Idea Of Automatic Wins

... REMINDS FANS OF SHOCKER WITH HAWAII IN PREVIEW OF USD

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

The idea that Nebraska has any automatic wins on its 1964 football schedule was kicked aside Monday by head coach Bob Devaney at the opening Extra Point Club luncheon of the season.

"No game is an automatic win," he told the gathering. "Oklahoma has a fine team and many sports writers are forecasting a national championship for them.

"Kansas and Missouri are both good football teams and Iowa State will be a championship contender if they don't suffer too many early season injuries.

"Even the bottom three are better," he continued. "Colorado and Oklahoma State are both improved and Kansas State is much better."

Devaney took special notice that even the opener with South Dakota Saturday can't be taken lightly.

"We should win the game," Devaney said. "But I think most of you remember back about 1955 when Hawaii came over here after being beaten 50-0 the year before and won 6-0."

Husker assistant John Melton, who scouted South Dakota in its 14-0 opening win over Bemidji, Minn., Saturday night, called the Coyotes a "hustling club that hits hard and executes its plays well."

Melton noted that South Dakota, a three-touchdown underdog entering the game, also had two TDs called back in addition to the two that counted. A 65-yard punt return and a 39-yard option play both went for touchdowns, but were called back because of penalties, Melton said.

Devaney explained to the group that his gridders hadn't shown much polish during fall camp and that very little progress had been made since the end of spring drills.

"But in checking over reports from other teams in Sunday's paper, I noticed that we probably gave our players a more severe test than other coaches did," he said.

"We worked our first and fourth units against the second and third while the other teams seemed to stack their first two or three units against the rest of the squad," Devaney continued.

"We had quite an even scrimmage, but we still have a lot of work to do. We have a lot of lettermen, but many of them played a year ago only after the game was decided.

"We are finding more mistakes in our play execution this fall than at any time since the first fall we were here."

On the bright side, the Husker leader noted that "this year's squad has real good spirit. The players elected two fine captains in Bob Hohn and Lyle Sittler. And Larry Kramer wasn't far behind in the voting. He would have made an excellent captain, also."

Two-A-Days End

Devaney sent his Huskers through their last of two-day drills with a brief drill Monday morning and a longer session in the afternoon.

Kramer was the only griddier missing Monday's drills as he watched from the sidelines. He is a doubtful performer for Saturday's opener because of a sprained ankle suffered in last Saturday's scrimmage. However, Bob Hohn, who suffered a knee injury in the same scrimmage, is expected to be ready for the Coyotes.

Sophomore Kaye Carstens was switched from left half to right half and was working behind Hohn and Harry Wilson Monday.

A controlled scrimmage session is planned for this afternoon for the third, fourth and fifth units as Devaney attempts to come up with some members of those units that will add depth.

Another Devaney

Another Devaney was on the scene, in addition to Bob, for Monday's quarter-back luncheon. The Husker coach's 80-year-old father, Ben, was a special guest at the luncheon.

He will remain in Lincoln for Saturday's opening game before returning to his home in Saginaw, Mich.

NBC On Campus

National Broadcasting Company cameras, along with sportscaster Jim Simpson, visited Lincoln Monday to make advance preparation for the Huskers' TV appearance against Minnesota at Minneapolis Sept. 26.

The television network shot campus scenes Monday morning, then worked in the Husker practice session Monday afternoon.

Tickets Remain

Season tickets still remain for Nebraska football in the new stadium addition, NU ticket manager Jim Pittenger said Monday.

Pittenger said 4,300 tickets had been sold in the new addition and that he anticipated NU freshman taking another 2,500 to 2,800 seats in that part of the stadium.

"That means that over half of the new addition will be sold," he said. "The east stadium is sold out by the time we get the students in there and all seats are gone in the west stadium, which means that the existing stadium is full."

Pittenger said the Missouri game appeared to be sold out and that South Carolina and Kansas State were approaching the sold out point.

"Plenty of tickets remain for the other games (South Dakota and Oklahoma State), however, as well as for all road game," he added.

DeRock Wins Tickets

Bill DeRock, chairman of Lincoln's Golden Gloves program, was the winner of two free tickets to the South Dakota game. The drawing will be conducted each week by the Extra Point Club at its Monday luncheon.

Udall To See Game

Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall will view Saturday's game with South Dakota.

Udall will watch the game with Gov. and Mrs. Morrison.

Cronin Terms Charges By Allyn 'Unfounded'

Boston (AP)—American League President Joe Cronin termed totally unfounded Monday charges by Chicago White Sox owner Arthur Allyn that information had been withheld at the recent meeting reapproving sale of the New York Yankees to the Columbia Broadcasting System.

In answer to Allyn's accusation, Cronin said:

"Mr. Allyn's statement that the American League office deliberately withheld information is totally unfounded. Nothing was withheld with which the owners could base their decision.

"I regret I have to make public what the American League normally treats as a privileged document," Cronin said.

He then produced transcripts of portions of the Sept. 9 proceedings, the meeting at

LISTON, CLAY SIGN PAPERS FOR REMATCH

Boston (AP)—Gov. Endicott Peabody of Massachusetts announced the signing of heavyweight champion Cassius Clay and challenger Sonny Liston for a return title fight at the Boston Garden Nov. 16.

Only hours later, the president of the World Boxing Association announced the suspension of everyone concerned with the fight.

Gov. Peabody made the announcement with a dour champion on one side and the smiling ex-champ, Liston, on the other side.

When advised of the action by the WBA, which had banned the return fight, Liston commented:

"Who are they? Who is the WBA? What right have they to suspend anyone? There hasn't been a fight in Denver in two years. Will they give me a pension? The WBA should be investigated."

Vachone To Meet Von Krupp For Rassling Crown

Mad Dog Vachone, a loser Saturday night to Billy Red Cloud in an Indian Chain Match at Omaha, will take on Baron Otto Von Krupp at Pershing Auditorium Wednesday night for the Nebraska State Championship.

Their bout will top a four-match card that also includes Red Cloud and Reggie Parks. Red Cloud goes against Stan "Krusher" Kowalski in the semifinal and Parks takes on Kirk Hess, making his first Lincoln appearance, in the special event.

Rene Goulet gets the card under way at 8:30 against Paddy Barrett, the shillelagh-swinging Irishman.

Hernandez Gains Unanimous Win Against Logart

Omaha (AP)—Art Hernandez, 156, Omaha, stretched his unbeaten string to 18 bouts Monday night with a 10-round unanimous decision over Isaac Logart, 152, New York City.

In the semiwindup of the boxing card, Joe Brown, 135, Houston, knocked out Chino Diaz, 136, Omaha, in 2:08 of the eighth round. The card drew 1,549 fans who paid $5-100.

Preliminaries:

Jack Richmond, 130, Chicago, knocked out Leno Puentes, 136, Omaha, in 24 of third.
Bob Murray, 149, Chicago, won split decision over Ronnie Sutton, Omaha, 4-3.
Ray Christian, 147, Winnipeg, knocked out Don Slaughter, 159, Omaha, in 2 of third.

ORIOLES BOOST MARGIN 9th Inning Run Nips Minnesota

... LEAD NOW IS 1½ GAMES

Baltimore (AP)—Luis Aparicio's one-out sacrifice fly in the ninth inning drove in Bob Saverine with the winning run, lifting the American League-leading Baltimore Orioles to a 4-3 victory over Minnesota Monday night.

The victory increased the Orioles' lead to 1½ games over second-place New York and two games ahead of third-place Chicago, both idle.

John Orsino led off the ninth with a single and left for pinch runner Saverine. Jerry Adair sacrificed Saverine to second, and he remained there as pinch hitter Lenny Green was walked intentionally.

Pinch hitter Charlie Lau then reached first as second baseman John Goryl bobbled his grounder. That loaded the bases.

Aparicio batted next against Al Worthington and lifted a fly to Jimmie Hall in left-center field. Saverine raced home and scored standing up as Hall's throw was off to the right of the plate.

Ken Rowe, whom the Orioles purchased last week from the Los Angeles Dodger farm club at Spokane, received credit for the victory. It was his first decision after pitching the ninth inning in relief of Milt Pappas.

Baltimore tied the game 3-3 in the eighth inning on two scratch hits, a walk and a fielder's choice.

Pinch hitter Russ Snyder opened the inning with a bloop single to left off Worthington, who had relieved starter Jim Grant at the start of the inning.

After a sacrifice and a walk to Aparicio, Snyder reached third as Norm Siebern hit into a force play at second. Boog Powell then hit a high chopper which bounced off first baseman Bob Allison's glove for a single and Snyder scored.

Allison retrieved the ball and threw it past Worthington covering first, allowing Siebern to reach third and Powell second. After an intentional walk to Brooks Robinson, who had homered in the second inning, Worthington retired Sam Bowens on a ground out.

Bowens had hit a homer, tying the score 2-2 in the seventh, after pinch hitter Don Mincher had put Minnesota ahead 2-1 with a two-run homer in the top of the inning.

Ex-Husker, Brand, Wins Olympic Spot

Annapolis, Md. (AP)—Two members of the San Francisco Olympic Club, Dan Brand and James Burke, won places Monday on the U.S. Olympic wrestling team.

Brand, who finished fifth in the 1960 Olympics, eliminated Wayne Baughman of Oklahoma City in the 191.5 pound freestyle competition, winning one match 2-0 and taking a second on a unanimous judges decision.

Brand, in addition to his Olympic competition, placed fourth in the world championships in 1961 and third in 1962. The former Nebraska grappler works for a utility company in California.

In Greco-Roman competition, Russ Camilleri, San Francisco Olympic Club, advanced to the finals in the 171.5 pound class, defeating John Hankin of Yuma, Ariz., 5-2.

Camilleri will meet Leonard Kaufman of Lebanon, Ore., in a three match series with the winner of two filling the final spot on the 16-man team.

Izaak Walton League Seeks Wildlife Refuge

... PROJECT WOULD COVER 13,200 ACRES

Deshler—An Izaak Walton resolution calling for a 13,200-acre wildlife refuge on surplus land of the Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot won approval here Sunday.

The proposal was one of several discussed by more than 100 members attending the League's annual state convention. Deshler president Fred Achterberg and the local chapter hosted the Saturday-Sunday affair.

Originally adopted by the Grand Island Iles, the NAD plan seeks to establish the "Sandy Creek National Wildlife Refuge" across the facility's southern part. Approximately one-sixth of the total area would be utilized.

"We have considerable backing for the project, and an initial survey has been made," said John Beck of Grand Island, state chairman of the wildlife and land management committee, and new League president.

The refuge would be located on drainage land along Big Sandy Creek and presumably would be managed by the U.S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife. Since the sanctuary would overlap the scheduled 35,000 livestock research center of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the idea may spark further controversy over disposal of the land.

Another key resolution adopted at the meeting opposes plans of the U.S. Corps of Engineers to "straighten the ridge or channel interfere" with the channel of the Republican River in Nebraska, Kansas, and Colorado.

Containing that the river would destroy the wildlife habitat and curtail fishing, the resolution notes that the plan is "unalterably opposed" by the Nebraska State Game, Forestation, and Parks Commission, its Kansas counterpart and by the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife Service.

Another proposal urged the game commission and Union Pacific Railroad to open for public use some closed access roadways on the north shore of Lake McConaughy.

—NEEDED BY SAYERS—

Injured Kansas End Ready For Opener

Kansas City (AP)—Coach Jack Mitchell said Monday All-Big Eight end Mike Shinn will start for Kansas against Texas Christian but warned "He'll be doubtful all season with that knee."

The coach said the 6-foot-4, 220-pound Shinn "might only last a few plays or he might last all season, you can never tell when you have cartilage trouble."

"He wants to play so we're going to let him start."

Shinn has been withheld from contact since early in the fall drills. Mitchell made the announcement at a Byline Club meeting here.

Mitchell disclosed that Gale Sayers, the team's All-American candidate at halfback, has been needing Shinn, his close friend, for two weeks.

"Gale would say 'When you gonna take that leg out of your hip pocket and play football,'" Mitchell said. "We assigned sophomore Jeff Elias to stay with Shinn all through practice and told Shinn to coach him on blocking and pass receiving."

"Once after Elias had dropped a pass and missed some blocks, Gale turned to Shinn and said 'You gotta quit this coaching and start playing football.'"

Mitchell said fullback Ron Oelschlager, who fractured a wrist Saturday, will miss the first three games but return for the first Big Eight game.

K-State Gridders Hold Brief Drill

Manhattan, Kan. (AP)—The Kansas State football squad had a short workout Monday then looked at films of Saturday's intra-squad game.

Of the six players injured in the game, all except fullback Gary Pankratz are expected to be ready for this week's game at Wisconsin.

Pankratz was being examined at Kansas City to determine whether surgery is required to correct a leg injury.

Princeton Linebacker Declared Ineligible

Blairstown, N.J. (AP)—Clint Johnson, Princeton's junior fullback and linebacker from Bellevue, Wash., is scholastically ineligible for the 1964 football season, Coach Dick Colman announced Monday.

The 185-pound junior had been expected to play linebacker on the first defensive unit, freeing star ball-carrier Cosmo Iacavazzi for strictly offensive duties.

Schofield's Bat Paces Pittsburgh Past Los Angeles

Los Angeles (AP)—Dick Schofield drove in four runs, three on a fourth-inning double, leading Pittsburgh to a 7-2 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers Monday night behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Veale.

Aided by three double plays, Veale notched his 17th victory against 10 defeats.

The Pirates trailed 2-1 before they erupted for four runs in the fourth. Bill Mazeroski's run-scoring single tied the game, and after Jim Paggiarone loaded the bases with a single, Schofield doubled in all three runners.

A crowd of 16,625 raised the Dodgers' home attendance to 2,006,192, making this the fifth year they've drawn more than two million, a National League record.

Athletics Edge Red Sox, 7-6

Boston (AP)—Consecutive ninth inning triples by Dick Green and Bill Bryan and a tie-breaking double by Ed Charles gave the Kansas City Athletics a 7-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox in a wild game Monday night.

The Red Sox had a 6-5 margin going into the ninth but Green led off with a triple and scored when Bryan tripled with his three-bagger. Charles' double delivered the winning run.

A four-run Red Sox fifth, helped along by two Athletics errors and a pinch triple by Dalton Jones, had put Boston in front. John Wyatt, making his 73rd appearance of the season, won it. The appearance tied Wyatt for the AL record with Boston's Dick Radatz. Jim Konstanty holds the major league mark with 74 for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1950.

Short Gains 17th Triumph For Phils

... LEADERS DOWN HOUSTON

Houston (AP)—Chris Short won his 17th game Monday night, pitching a four-hitter as National League-leading Philadelphia defeated Houston 4-1 behind the hitting of Johnny Callison.

Short, who has lost seven times, had a shutout until the Colts scored in the eighth on a double by Bob Lillis and two infield outs. Before that, only one Colt had reached second base.

Callison reached his major league career high with his 27th home run and added a double and a single. He drove in two runs and scored two.

The Phillies put the game away in the first inning on a single by Richie Allen and Callison's home run into the right field seats. The homer came off Bruce, who suffered

Television Now Trying To Get Golfers Up Before Dawn

... ANOTHER SQUABBLE MAY BE BREWING BETWEEN TELEVISION AND PRO GOLFERS

Akron, Ohio (UPI) — Oh, how I hate to get up in the morning.

So do pro golfers, especially if they have to get up at the crack of dawn, and that prospect plus an old sore spot—television—now threatens another revolt among the touring pros on the circuit.

They first rebelled last winter when they nearly walked out of the Phoenix Open because of a squabble with the sponsors over TV money. The trouble finally was resolved when the sponsors added more money to the tournament purse.

This time the pros have another squawk concerning a package deal now in the works between the PGA and NBC, which would call for the televising of several upcoming winter tournaments over a national hook-up.

Because NBC would have to slot the weekend telecasts between 4 and 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, tee-off times for the golfers would have to be moved up to early morning. That means if a California tourney was being televised it would have to finish by 2 p.m. Pacific Coast Time to coincide with NBC's Eastern Times slot.

In short it also means the golfers would have to be on the course and ready to go at the ungodly hour of 7 a.m.

The touring golfers want no part of such a ridiculous arrangement. They like to sleep, especially on weekends. The tournament sponsors like the set-up, either, feeling with complete justification that the early tee-off times would kill attendance and concession sales.

PGA and NBC officials confirm they're discussing a package deal for the forthcoming winter tour but neither faction has been able to come up with a solution for the tricky time schedules.

Warren Cantrell, PGA president, revealed that Jim Gaquin, the PGA's tournament manager, spent the past week on the West Coast feeling out sponsors about the proposed TV shows. Cantrell realized the golfers may balk.

"If I were them I wouldn't care for it, either," he admitted. "However, if there's a great deal of money involved, they might take a different attitude."

There are some people, golfers among them, who simply won't get up for love or money. Can you picture such big money-winners as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema, to name just a few, jumping out of bed at 5 a.m. simply to rush out for an average tournament payoff?

For enough money, though, even the best have been known to miss their sleep.

Marty Carmichael, the PGA's special radio-TV advisor, explains it this way: "NBC asked us if we couldn't work something out for a winter golf show and if we could get such a show over by 5 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time). I told them it would be physically possible if the money was right. Still another problem that would be created by those early starting times revolves around Sunday's final round. That happens to be a day when many people go to church in the morning.

Carmichael is aware of that, too. He pondered the problem a long time and then said: "I guess they'll have to pray earlier."

—ODELL STRING ENDS—

Prep Football's Opening Week Follows '63 Trend

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

What's new in prep football in 1964? The opening week of action followed the 1963 trend for the most part, but when you look for specifics there were several eye-opening reversals.

For one thing, Odell lost its claim to the longest winning streak in eight-man ranks as Barneston rudely ripped the Tigers, 57-19. It ended a string of 20 victories for Odell.

New leader in the eight-man category is Palisade, which pushed its streak to 15 with a 30-0 rout of Hayes Center.

Odell wasn't the only small school entry to have a lengthy win skein snapped. Talmage had its string cut at 12 by Cook, and Maywood's streak was clipped at 10 by Venango.

Grant continues to roll along with the longest victory string in 11-man action. The Plainsmen have 24 consecutive wins after a 21-19 opening win over Ogallala.

Waverly stays in second place after squeaking past Gretna, 13-12, the 18th straight success for Dick Hagmoser's Vikings.

Scribner's streak was curtailed at 17 as Pender slapped a 12-0 setback on Del Stollen.

berg's outfit. Wahoo, Franklin and Harvard—each undefeated in 1963—tasted defeat in their 1964 openers. Wahoo and Harvard hadn't lost for two seasons, but had ties in 1962.

There wasn't much of a change as far as the Class A streaks go. Creighton Prep mauled Omaha South to push its victory string to 17 and Lincoln Northeast extended its streak to 13 with a 20-0 win over Southeast. Boys Town's 12-game streak was interrupted, but not halted, as the Cowboys were held to a 14-14 tie by Sioux City Healan.

And on the other side of the ledger, Omaha Central went down to its 16th straight setback as it fell before Lincoln High, 31-6.

The new season brought encouraging results in such places as Stratton, Wilcox, Lewiston, Superior, Hebron, Palmer and Shickley, however, as they snapped out of losing streaks.

Shickley, Palmer and Stratton each cracked 16-game strings by the narrowest of margins. Shickley nipped Milligan, 7-6; Palmer edged Wolback, 13-12, and Stratton squeezed past Red Willow, 14-13.

Lewiston and Wilcox had much easier sailing. Willie Fitzpatrick's Lewiston club clipped an 11-game string of reversals with a 42-6 rout of Diller. Wilcox ended 14 games of frustration with a 27-6 win over Elm Creek.

Turkey Gives Up Trying To Supply Cyprus Town

Ankara, Turkey (AP) — Turkey shelved indefinitely Monday its plan to ship supplies to the blockaded Turkish Cypriot enclave of Kokkina under armed escort.

Premier Ismet Inonu's cabinet announced in a communiqué the convoy relief move, scheduled for Tuesday, was postponed at the request of U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant.

That averted a threat of open battle between the Turks and President Archbishop Makarios' Greek Cypriot forces at Kokkina, where villagers and a Turkish Cypriot garrison have been sealed off for six weeks.

'Same Way'

In announcing the plan last Thursday to send in supplies under guard of a destroyer and warplanes, Inonu said, "Any interference during the debarkment... will be considered an attack and answered in the same way."

The Makarios regime responded that the convoy movement would be regarded as an aggressive act and resisted.

In the interval, U.N. helicopters delivered to Kokkina two tons of emergency rations from supplies of the U.N. peace force.

In Prague, Communist Czechoslovakia's news agency (CETEKA) quoted President Makarios Monday as saying Premier Khrushchev's recent statements on aid to Cyprus "have served as a deterrent to the plans of aggressive powers."

"The people of Cyprus are very grateful for the endeavor of the Soviet Union, which is strengthening them in the decision not to give in to pressure," Makarios said in an interview published by CETEKA.

Makarios said he is quite indifferent to the fact some members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization have "not eyed the Soviet offer (of aid) favorably."

Among NATO members cool to emergence of Russian influence in the Mediterranean is Greece, which on the whole backs Makarios.

FIRST LADY TALKS; LINCOLNITE LISTENS

Mrs. Robert Van Neste of Lincoln and one housewife in each of the other 49 states were the recipients of a conference telephone call Monday from Lady Bird Johnson and Muriel Humphrey. Mrs. Johnson, upper left, asked that each woman write to 10 friends asking them to join a "tell-a-friend" campaign for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket, and to ask volunteers to give four hours a week in a "four for '64" campaign. Mrs. Humphrey told the women there is nothing more powerful than a woman on the telephone. Mrs. Van Neste is shown above listening intently, upper right, as the conversation started, smiling, lower left, and with a cup of coffee. (Star Photos.)

Callan Claims Rep. Beermann Captive Of ACA

Seward — Democratic congressional candidate Clair Callan of Odell charged Monday night that his Republican opponent, Rep. Ralph Beermann, is a captive of the Americans for Constitutional Action.

Callan identified ACA as a national, right-wing, extremist group.

Beermann, he said, campaigns on the strength of an endorsement by the ACA which, he said, maintains close ties with the John Birch Society.

"The ACA has opposed virtually all public programs, including Social Security, rural electrification and aid to higher education," Callan said.

Callan told a Seward County Democratic fund-raising dinner that ACA has given Beermann a 100% rating for his conservative voting record.

"No representative of Nebraska can be 100% captive of any pressure group and still represent the people of this state," Callan said.

State Files Suit To Stop Rhodes, Cancel Judgment

An injunction suit was filed in U.S. District Court here Monday against Paul E. Rhodes, seeking to prevent the Howe attorney from pursuing legal actions against citizens and employees of the State of Nebraska.

Atty. Gen. Clarence A. H. Meyer filed the action on behalf of the State of Nebraska and Lumbermen's Mutual Casualty Co. of Illinois.

Meyer also asks the court to declare that a $450,500 judgment awarded Rhodes by a federal court jury in Topeka, Kan., is a nullity and unenforceable.

The petition contends the judgment was a default judgment obtained as a result of fraud and collusion on the part of Rhodes and Harry Edmondson.

Edmondson, former Nebraska Penitentiary guard, was defendant to the Rhodes' suit alleging violation of constitutional rights.

Rhodes had served a nine-month Nebraska Penitentiary term for contempt of court.

Four Nebraskans Named To Demo Campaign Group

Four Nebraskans are among nearly 200 persons who were named Monday as members of the National Committee of Rural Americans for Johnson and Humphrey.

They are Carl Bruns of Chappell, Abner K. Chestem of Lincoln, Paul Ogier of Wallace, and Lloyd Wallen of Unadilla.

Membership on the committee includes Republicans, Democrats and independents. Committee Chairman Robert W. Scott of Haw River, N.C., said. Serving with farm men and women are small-town bankers, business and professional men as well as town and county officials, he said.
